Descriptive Title Book of Hours Text title Book of Hours

Abstract This Book of Hours was likely created in or near Antwerp

ca. 1470, as its artist was influenced by the Antwerp-based illuminator Lieven van Lathem (active there 1462-1493). The book appears to have been connected with the diocese of Tournai soon after its creation, for an early hand added a large number of saints from that region to the calendar in French. Its twelve surviving full-page miniatures are of fine quality, and closely recall the approach to composition and figural style of the Prayer Book of Charles the Bold from ca.

1469, now at the Getty (MS. 37).

Binding

The binding is original.

Bound in Belgium in the second half of the fifteenth century; dark brown leather over wooden boards, sewn on three cords; possibly rebacked in the eighteenth century; covers blind tooled with patterns of foliage, birds, and lions; red and green silk endbands; traces of gilding on page edges but mostly scraped off; traces of spots for fasteners on fore-edge of boards

Provenance

Created ca. 1470 by an artist influenced by the Antwerpbased illuminator Lieven van Lathem, making it likely this manuscript was also made in or near Antwerp

"Thomas S." inscribed name in sixteenth century on fol. 1r

Erased inscription in lower margin of fol. 1r may read "Bibliotheca Dunensis 1725" (?), possibly referring to a the Cistercian abbey Dunum near Bruges

Léon Gruel, Paris, late nineteenth or early twentieth century

Henry Walters, Baltimore, acquired from Gruel between 1895 and 1931

Acquisition
