Shelf mark Walters Art Museum Ms. W.79

Descriptive Title East Anglian Psalter

Text title Psalter and Office of the Dead

Abstract This English Psalter was made for an East Anglian patron at the beginning of the fourteenth century. The original Psalter contains a calendar for adapted Sarum use, the Psalms, Canticles, Litany, and Office of the Dead, with additional prayers in a humanist hand added by a fifteenth-century owner. The text is incomplete; about two dozen leaves have been removed, resulting in missing historiated initials and several partial Psalms and Canticles. Three extant historiated initials, accompanied by incipits in gold, stand out among a multitude of smaller painted and flourished initials. The majority of the text is written in an accomplished textualis prescissa. This Psalter has stylistic and textual connections to the Gorleston Psalter (British Library, Add. Ms. 49622) and the Ormesby Psalter (Bodleian Library, Douce Ms. 366), placing it firmly within the tradition of East Anglian manuscript production in the first half of the fourteenth century.

Date First half of the 14th century CE

Text: Psalm 48

fol. 56r:

Title: The fool speaking to God; two hounds chasing a rabbit marginal decoration

Form: Historiated initial "D," 6 lines

Text: Psalm 52

Label: The fool stands in a quartered tunic, holding his loaf and rattle. He looks up toward God in the upper right corner. The fool is often associated with a bicolored tunic, though here he appears in a distinctive quadripartite blue and dull pink tunic. The style of this historiated initial recalls North French and Flemish examples.

fol. 61v:

Title: Initial "D" with male supplicant Form: Inhabited initial "D," 2 lines

Text: Psalm 59

Label: This initial depicts a male supplicant dressed in a dull-pink hooded robe. This image is related to two other initials in this manuscript that depict similar male supplicants (fols. 96r and 102V).

fol. 69r:

Title: Three men in water pray to God; archer shooting at a hybrid man marginal decoration

Form: Historiated initial "S," 6 lines

Text: Psalm 68

Label: Three nude male supplicants appear in the lower half of the "S," up to their waists in water. The trio refer to the text of the Psalm: "Save me, O God, for the waters are come in even unto my soul." The presence of three figures is irregular, as this scene normally depicts only one figure, sometimes that of David, in the water.

fol. 86v:

Text: Psalm 82

fol. 88v:

Title: Hybrid man pointing marginal decoration Form: Marginal illustration, bottom left corner

Text: Psalm 92

fol. 100r:

Title: Three clerics chanting; shepherd trumpeting and

fox marginal decoration

Form: Historiated initial "C," 6 lines

Text: Psalm 97

Label: This page depicts an historiated initial containing three tonsured clerics chanting from an open, notated gradual on a lectern before them, all on a tooled gold ground. Each cleric wears a differently colored robe, the first turns the book's pages, the second raises his hand to his chin in contemplation and holds a book in his other hand, and the third holds his hands in prayer. The image of three chanting clerics relates directly to the incipit of the Psalm ("Cantate domino canticum novum..."), which appears in raised gold lettering. The trumpeter in left margin of the page above the words "Et exultaverunt" finds comparison with a shepherd blowing his horn in response to the Annunciation of Christ's birth in the Gorleston Psalter (British Library, Add. Ms. 49622, fol. 126r). The style of this image, like the one at Psalm 52 (fol. 56r), recalls North French and Flemish examples.

fol. 101v:

Title: Initial "I" with hybrid figure Form: Inhabited initial "I," 3 lines

fol. 102v:

Title: Initial "D" with male supplicant Form: Inhabited initial "D," 2 lines

Text: Psalm 101

Label: This page depicts an initial with a male supplicant dressed a dull-pink robe on a gold ground. Psalm 101 was often favored for the depiction of patrons of devotional texts.

fol. 118v:

Title: Hybrid figure marginal decoration Form: Marginal illustration, upper left margin

Text: Psalm 113

fol. 119r:

Title: Hybrid figure marginal decoration Form: Marginal illustration, lower left margin

Text: Psalm 115

fol. 126v:

Title: Hybrid figure marginal decoration

Text: Beginning of the Office of the Dead (Dilexi quoniam exaudiet Dominus)

Label: This page depicts a large initial "D," inhabited by a multitude of penwork grotesques. Hybrid animals in the same style occupy the lower and right margins. The opening of the Office of the Dead marks a distinct change in style from the rest of the manuscript. More elaborate penwork flourishes enhance both the initials and the marginalia.

fol. 161v:

Title: Initial "C"; hybrid marginal decoration

Form: Inhabited initial "C," 2 lines

fol. 163v:
